Catalogue of PHILLIMORE'S Parish Register Series.

Printed in Demy 8vo, on antique paper, bound in cloth, gilt. Issued to Subscribers at one uniform Price of 10s. 6d. each volume net except Yorkshire, (which see), Carriage extra.

General Editor—THOS. M. BLAGG, F.S.A.

NO pedigree can be completed without reference to Parish Registers. It is obviously a matter of prime importance to genealogists that they should be rendered accessible by means of printing them.

This Series aims, by a County system, at printing the whole of the Parish Registers in England (except such as have been printed already by others), dealing in the first instance with the Marriages, from the beginning of each Register down to the early years of the 19th century.

The Marriage entries are by far the most important part of every register—Marriages being much the most numerous of the missing links in pedigrees, while at the same time they are the most difficult to discover, owing to the uncertainty of their whereabouts—if anything at all is known of a family it is usually known where to look for most of its baptisms or burials—but this rule does not apply to its matrimonial alliances. Hence the need of first printing the marriages of the whole of each county, and so not only preserving that portion of the Registers from the risk of total loss, but making them more accessible to the genealogical student.

A further advantage is that, owing to the comparatively small number of marriage entries as contrasted with baptisms and burials, it is possible to make such rapid progress with this work that most counties, if supported by a good body of subscribers willing to take two volumes at 10/6 each per annum, can have the whole of their Marriage Registers printed within a reasonable period, enabling subscribers themselves to see the accomplishment of the work and have the volumes upon their own shelves, whereas to print the whole of each Parish Register verbatim, greatly desirable though that be, one hundred years would scarcely suffice.

This scheme was started by the late Mr. Phillimore in 1897, and such progress has been made that in some counties two-thirds of the parishes have now been printed. In those counties where the marriage entries in the registers of a large co-terminus area have thus been made accessible (as, for instance, in Nottinghamshire, where all the southern half of the county has been done), the printed volumes have proved to be the key to the genealogy of nearly all the families in that district. It is easy to get the baptisms and burials when once all the Marriages and the places of their registration have been found.

Two Hundred Volumes are now included in Phillimore's Parish Register Series, and it is estimated that in these Volumes are recorded the Marriages of upwards of Two Million persons. Thirty English Counties are comprised in the series, and the complete Marriage Registers of over Twelve Hundred Parishes have already been printed.

If every genealogist (English and American) would make a point of subscribing annually to at least one County Series (only a small expense, ranging from a half-guinea to a guinea), in a very short time all the Parish Registers of England, before 1837, would be in print.

These volumes are an absolute necessity to every genealogist. No Library of first rank, interested in English Family History, can afford to dispense with them.

Public Librarians in England, America, and the Colonies who desire to secure sets of any County should at once enter their names. Very few sets remain unsubscribed for.

Private Collectors should note that, owing to the limited editions printed (150 copies only), the volumes are being largely absorbed by public institutions and libraries, and in a short time it will be almost impossible to obtain copies. Early application for sets is requisite.

N.B. INDEXES :—In order to avoid the evil of a multiplicity of indexes, and to enable the Registers themselves to be printed as rapidly and economically as possible, indexing has been postponed until sufficient volumes have been issued to enable those of each County to have one general index, or at least to be indexed in long sets. With the approaching completion of several Counties this question has become imminent, and Subscribers will be glad to hear that the Indexes of several Counties are now in active preparation and Index Volumes will be announced at an early date.

YORKSHIRE.

Correspondents have constantly asked that the Marriage Registers of Yorkshire should be included in this Series and after much pressure we have consented to start this work. The Yorkshire Parish Register Society have done, and are doing, good work in printing Yorkshire Registers, having issued upwards of fifty parishes, besides the Register of Austerfield in the old Archdeaconry of Nottingham; but their progress in relation to the whole of such a vast county is necessarily slow and their work too often has the drawback that the Registers are printed only down to some date in the 18th century, whereas genealogists now require that all Registers printed should be brought down to the year 1837, when Civil Registration began, and prior to which date, now receding so rapidly into history, it is becoming increasingly difficult to obtain genealogical data. Again, a desire to print a large number of parishes and to produce as many volumes as possible in return for the annual subscription, frequently causes the county Societies to give undue attention to small and relatively unimportant Registers, to the neglect of those of the large towns, though the latter, with their numerous marriages of persons from distant places, and the greater time and expense involved in searching the originals, are by far the most useful to the genealogical worker.

We propose therefore to print a series of Yorkshire Marriage Registers, dealing chiefly with the towns and larger villages, and including smaller places only when they are adjacent, forming compact groups, so that the complete Marriage Registers over large areas of country are printed in each volume—a feature which has made the Nottinghamshire series so useful. We shall also print the abstracts, in every case, down to the year 1837. As Yorkshire is so large a county and as it is desirable to print as rapidly as possible in order that subscribers may have the results available for reference quickly, we intend to issue these volumes at 15/- each instead of the uniform 10/6 of the remainder of the counties in this series. This will enable us to give from 200 to 250 pages in each volume, instead of the usual 150 to 170, and also to compile and print an index to each volume or parish, as the system of consolidated indexes, adopted in the other counties, is not so feasible in the case of Yorkshire.

The first two volumes of the Yorkshire series will contain the complete Marriage Registers of the important parish of ROTHERHAM (embracing also the hamlets and chapelries of Greasborough, Kimberworth, Dalton, Brinsworth, Catcliffe and Orgreave) from 1540 to 1837. These will be issued in two volumes at 15/- each nett, Volume I. containing the period 1540 to 1798, and Volume II. 1798 to 1837, with index to both.

Subscribers' names are now being received, and Volume I. will be issued in October. Only 150 copies are being printed, so that the Yorkshire series is certain to become scarce.

THE SOUTH OF IRELAND, SHEWING PROGRESS OF THE IRISH RECORD SERIES.

Irish Record Series

NOTWITHSTANDING the interest attaching to the Public Records of Ireland, and their special importance, having regard to the deficiencies of Irish Parish Registers from a genealogical aspect, too little has hitherto been done to render them generally accessible by means of the printing-press

Not merely to those living in Ireland are these ancient records of value and interest. To the vast number of the descendants of Irish emigrants now living in England, America, and the English Colonies they are obviously of prime importance as being the only means, as a rule, which now remain open to them to connect their families with their ancestral country.

For this reason the publication of the present series of Irish Records was undertaken, and its issue will be continued so long as it receives adequate support from the subscribers.

Obviously the most important of records available for the genealogist are WILLS and ADMINISTRATIONS, and these are now being printed. Three Volumes of Calendars of Wills have been printed down to and including the year 1800, and a fourth is now in progress.

They are printed to range in size with the Scottish Record Series, initiated by Mr PHILLIMORE in 1897, and in which complete Calendars of all Scotch Testaments down to 1800 have been printed, and ranging also with the series (now approaching completion) of English Wills and Administrations (now issued by the British Record Society) which Mr PHILLIMORE commenced in 1887.

These Volumes are printed in royal octavo and well bound in cloth gilt, a method which will doubtless be appreciated by the subscribers, as saving them the trouble of seeing to the binding of loose parts.

The records of each Diocese are kept separate, and the names in each of the various lists are arranged in lexicographical order.

Instead of a fixed prepaid annual subscription, the volumes of the Irish Record Series will be issued at various prices in accordance with their size. Subscriptions will be due upon delivery of each volume.

The number of the edition printed is limited to Two Hundred and Fifty copies. Public Libraries and Private Collectors who desire to secure complete sets of the Irish Record Series will therefore do well to send in notice of their subscriptions at an early date.

Three volumes of the Calendars of Wills have been issued, and these will be followed at short intervals by those of the remaining dioceses whose records are unprinted, viz:—

Achonry and Killala, 1698	Connor, 1622	Kilmore, 1682
Ardagh, 1695	Derry, 1615	Meath, 1572
Armagh, 1677	Down, 1646	Newry and Mourne, 1727
Clogher, 1661	Drogheda, 1691	Raphoe, 1684
Clonfert, 1663	Dromore, 1678	Tuam, 1648
	Elphin, 1650

The Calendars of Administrations will be issued separately, as soon as the Calendars of Wills have been completed.

Volumes already issued:—

VOLUME I.—Calendars of Wills for Ossory, 1536-1800; Ferns, 1601-1800; Leighlin, 1652-1800; and Kildare, 1661-1800. Price 10/6 nett.

VOLUME II.—Calendars of Wills for Cork and Ross, 1548-1800; Cloyne, 1621-1800. Price 10/6 nett.

VOLUME III.—Calendars of Wills for Cashel and Emly, 1618-1800; Waterford and Lismore, 1645-1800; Killaloe and Kilfenora, 1653-1800; Limerick, 1615-1800; Ardfert and Aghadoe, 1690-1800. Price 10/6 nett.

The above three volumes comprise all the Dioceses of the South of Ireland. The jurisdictions will be better understood from the accompanying map.

The Lord Mayors and Sheriffs of London, 1601 to 1625

By G. E. COKAYNE, M.A., F.S.A.,

Late Clarenceux King of Arms. (Editor of 'The Complete Peerage.')

This Book gives very detailed accounts of the Lord Mayors and Sheriffs during the period named, as also of their children. The work is not a mere dry genealogical history, but one full of interesting personal notes about the magnates with whom it is concerned. No such systematic and detailed history of the Lord Mayors and Sheriffs has ever before been attempted, and the book, whilst primarily concerned with the City of London, necessarily relates to a far wider circle, for many, indeed the majority, of the Merchant Princes whose history it records are amongst the ancestors of some of our most distinguished families.

The names of the Lord Mayors and Sheriffs included are given below :—

Allen	Elwes	Hayes	Lee	Proby	Smith
Anderson	Farrington	Herne	Leman	Pyott	Smithes
Barkham	Gerrard	Heylin	Lowe	Romney	Style
Bennet	Glover	Hodges	Lumley	Rotherham	Swinnerton
Bolles	Gore	Jaye	Middleton	Rowe	Walthall
Cambell	Halliday	Johnson	Pemberton	Ryder	Watts
Cokayne	Handford	Jolles	Prescott	Scudamore	Weld
Craven	Harvey	Jones

Demy 8vo. Cloth Gilt. Price, 8s. 6d.

The Churchyard Inscriptions of the City of London.

Transcribed and Abstracted by PERCY C. RUSHEN.

This Book contains particulars of every existing external monumental inscription in all the churchyards and graveyards within the limits of the City of London, fifty-nine in number.

It is obviously a work of extreme importance to genealogists, not only by reason that many notable persons are included in these lists, but also because the inscriptions that remain become fewer in number every year. Many have become illegible or have disappeared since the transcriber undertook this work some twelve years ago.

A FULL INDEX of Names is appended to the Book.

The volume ranges in size with Phillimore's Parish Register Series, and genealogists will do well to secure their copies at once, as only a very small edition has been printed.

Edited by the late
Mr. W. P. W. PHILLIMORE, M.A., B.C.L.

Heralds' College and Coats-of-Arms, . . . Regarded from a Legal Aspect.

Third Edition.

Price, One Shilling net. By Post, 1s. 1d.

This pamphlet deals fully with the attempts of recent writers to justify, under the guise of 'prescription' the use of bogus coats-of-arms.

'The fact that Mr. Phillimore's scholarly and accurate pamphlet, first issued in 1903, has already appeared in a third and revised edition, speaks loudly for the interest that is felt in the subject. From the unreasonable attacks to which the College of Arms is subject, Mr Phillimore defends its members, and he exposes the delusions that prevail concerning it. His explanation of the legal aspects is lucid. He has an appended chapter upon the subject of prescription, and he supplies an appendix of "Statutes and Cases."'—Notes and Queries, 4th March 1905.

The Law and Practice of Change of Name.

Price, One Shilling net. By Post, 1s. 1d.

In this manual the legal aspect and procedure of change of name is fully dealt with, and precedents and cases are given. Particulars of the fees and stamp duties payable are likewise added.

The Family Charter Chest.

Long 8vo. Price, Sixpence net. By Post, 7d.

The pamphlet contains suggestions for the care and preservation of ancient records, whether of parchment or paper, and for their arrangement and calendaring. It should be read by all who are possessed of old family documents which, though of value and interest, are too frequently cast aside as useless.

The Law and Practice of Grants of Arms, and Registration of Pedigrees in England, Scotland, and Ireland.

Price, One Shilling net. By Post, 1s. 1d.

Herein is set out for the first time the practical steps which must be taken by those who desire to obtain grants of arms, or who wish to record their pedigrees. Precedents of the forms are given, with tables of the various fees and stamp duties payable, as well as extracts from various Acts of Parliament. It is somewhat remarkable that up to the present time books on Heraldry have been confined chiefly to what may be termed the grammar of the subject. Hitherto there has been no adequate guide to the legal and practical aspect of heraldry. This book will be found to supply the deficiency.

The Parish Historian.

Price, One Shilling net. By Post, 1s. 1d.

This is an elementary manual intended for the use of those who for the first time are attempting to write a parish history.

Parish Registers: Suggestions for their Transcription.

Long 8vo. Price, Sixpence net. By Post, 7d.

Full particulars are given as to the history of Parish Registers, and a table of ancient alphabets. It is a pamphlet which will be found indispensable to the parish clergy and others who propose to transcribe ancient Registers.
